

JOHN M. WAHR

EDUCATION

Bachelor of Science Degree, University of Michigan, Physics (Honors) and Mathematics (Highest Honors), 1973
Master of Science Degree, University of Colorado, Physics, 1976.
Ph.D., University of Colorado, Physics, 1979.

EXPERIENCE

1980-82 Visiting Scientist, Geophysical Fluid Dynamics Program, Department of Geological and Geophysical Sciences, Princeton University
1983-86 Assistant Professor, Dept. of Physics, University of Colorado
1986-1992 Associate Professor, Dept. of Physics, University of Colorado
1992-present Professor, Dept. of Physics, University of Colorado
1983-present Fellow of The Cooperative Institute for Research in Environmental Sciences, University of Colorado
1989-present Distinguished Visiting Scientist, Jet Propulsion Laboratory, Pasadena, California.

POST-PhD AWARDS AND HONORS

Guy Bomford Prize for Geodetic Research, 1983, from the International Association of Geodesy and London's Royal Society.
James B. Macelwane Award of the American Geophysical Union, 1985.
Fellow of the American Geophysical Union (1985) and of the IAG (1991).
Bowie Lecturer (American Geophysical Union, 1994)
Vening Meinesz Medal (1998) from Utrecht and Delft Universities in The Netherlands.
Editors' Citation for Excellence in Refereeing, AGU (2002).
Vening Meinesz Medal (2004) of the European Geosciences Union.

ACTIVE RESEARCH INTERESTS

Time-variable gravity and its earth science applications; rotation of the Earth; earth and ocean tides; polar ice balance; global sea level rise; geological/geophysical applications of InSAR; interaction of the atmosphere and oceans with the Earth; post-glacial deformation; mantle anelasticity; the Earth's three dimensional internal structure.
